PANDA GOES WILD

52' (ENG, GER)

Wild Giant Pandas have rarely been seen in the wild, almost never filmed. PANDA GOES WILD is about one panda's journey from birth to freedom over three years, and understanding the wild world he will face.

The pandas we know have been bred for generations in captivity. The Wolong Panda Centre in China breeds Giant Pandas. The majority is raised there together to become superstars and ambassadors for China across the world. A few are on a different mission. PANDA GOES WILD is about one panda's journey from birth to freedom over three years, and understanding the wild world he will face.
