LAKE BALATON – EUROPE’S HIDDEN PARADISE

50' (ENG, GER)

Welcome to a hidden paradise, Lake Balaton, the largest body of freshwater in Central Europe.

Formed in the last Ice Age by tectonic forces, nature continues to impact the lake today. In and around the shores, fields, forests and shallow bays of Lake Balaton, a huge variety of animals survive. Most of them are specialists, many are rare, and some have extraordinary behaviour! Join us on this extraordinary journey to see predatory asps; marvel at glossy ibis, grey- and night herons; join wild cats hunting and observe European bee-eaters and ground squirrels raising the next generation!
