COUNTS - THE ORIGINS OF CATALONIA

2 × 52', 4 × 30 (CAT, ENG subs)

In the 9th century Catalonia was part of the Carolingian empire. The territory was supposed to protect the French Empire from the Islamic invasions.

And the demand for a sovereign state of the Catalan nation goes back to this time. The series reconstructs with extreme historical care the highly politically charged period marked by power struggles. By following the personalities and legacies of a dynasty of fascinating sovereigns, Wilfred the Hairy, Wilfred Borrell, Sunyer I and Borrell II who succeeded one another, the emergence of a new country in medieval Europe is presented.
